About the Book

Inspired by the original Law Soda: Crowdfunding, Corporate Governance, and the Startup's Path to Scalable Capital and by Mr. KFM's 100,000 Words series, each book in the Law Soda series explores a different area of law through 100 striking AI-generated illustrations, concise teaching moments, and relatable stories involving people facing real-world legal issues. From business, immigration, employment, intellectual property to family, criminal, tax, space, and other areas of law, the series brings complex legal concepts into clearer focus.

This is not a traditional legal textbook. Law Soda combines the substance of legal education with the visual power of storytelling, creating something between a book and a motion picture. Each volume uses images and carefully selected text to teach, illustrate, and bring legal concepts to life, making the experience especially engaging for visual learners while still giving readers who learn through text meaningful substance. For entrepreneurs, business owners, and anyone curious about the law, the Law Soda series offers a fresh and entertaining way to learn about the legal issues that shape the world around them.

I WANT A FUCKING DIVORCE.

I want a divorce too, you bitch.

Girl, are you still there?

Amber? Can you hear me?

Come on, talk to me. You'll feel better once you get it off your chest.

You're really starting to worry me now. Do you want to come over? You could help me eat this massive jackfruit my husband bought yesterday, and I'm making matooke and fresh fish for lunch.

Have you seen my keys?
Find your own damn keys, motherfucker!

Maybe I should come over before I karate-chop this man to death. You know, I've been taking kickboxing classes. Plus, I don't think I've had matooke since last year, when you invited me to Uganda for your introduction and wedding ceremony.
Please don't karate-chop your husband—at least not yet.

Where are you going? I still haven't found my keys. Did you hide them?
I didn't hide them. And, if you must know, I'm going to Angel's house.
AFRO
TECHNOLOGIES

Angel is our neighbor, only three houses down. Couldn't you just walk so I could use your car? I'm late for work.
I don't feel like walking. And you can take the bus for all I care. I have to get out of here to clear my head.
There are no bus routes out here. You know that.
Too bad for you.

I was going to wash your pants with the laundry last night and found your keys in your pocket, along with a disgusting purple thong, probably from one of your girlfriends.
No. That was for you. I bought it for you to be romantic, you know. I bought the chocolates you like, but I think they've melted by now because I left them in my car. I'll show you if you don't believe me.
Well, at least you know where your keys are now. I left the pants on top of the washer. I'll be at Angel's if you need me.

I think he was telling the truth. I thought they were from his girlfriend or something, and I was suspicious of how he was acting so nice to me last night. I really screwed that one up, didn't I?

Yeah, but you can always apologize. It sounds like he was really trying to be romantic.

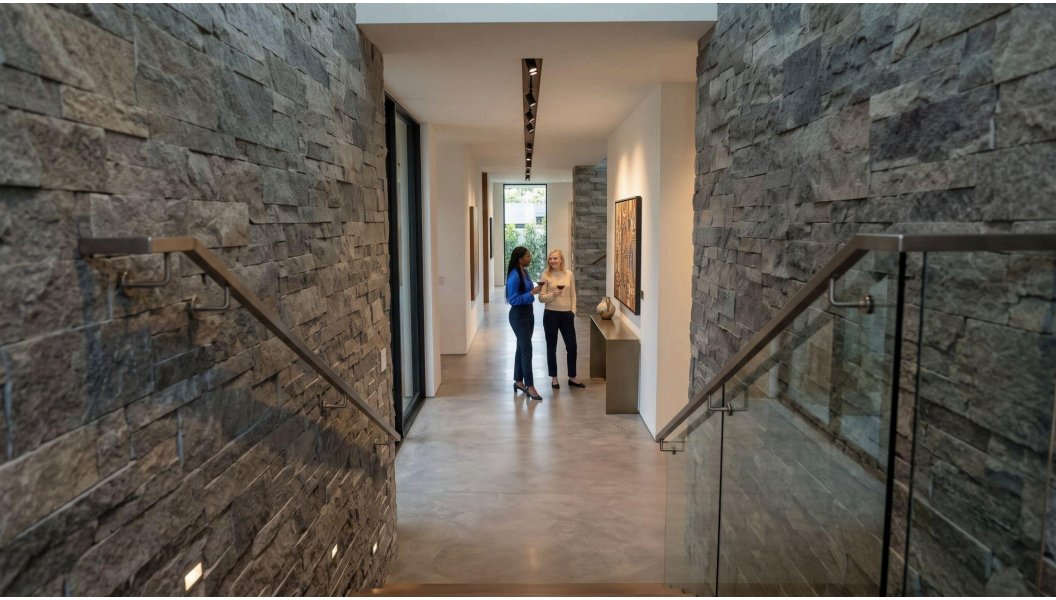

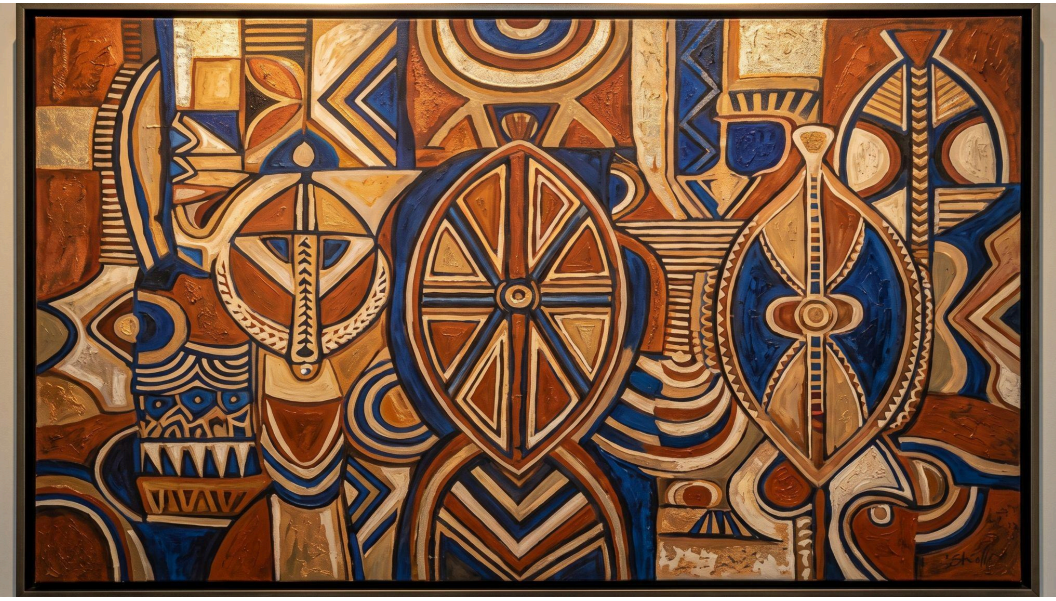

Yes.
Is this one from Uganda too?
It’s gorgeous.

I've had this painting for five months, and I still haven't gotten a grasp on it.
What was the artist trying to say?

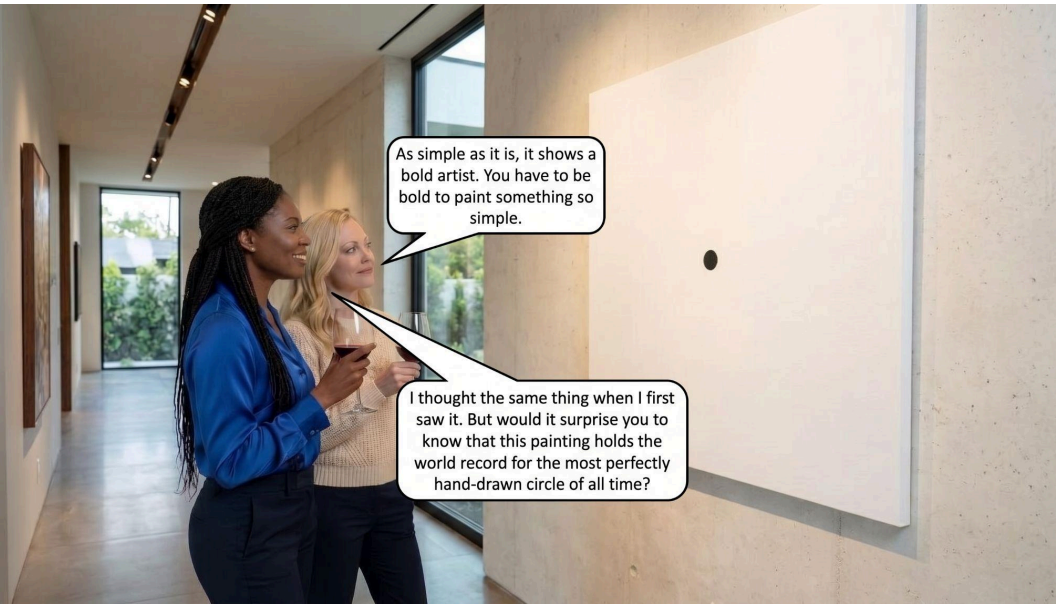

Hmmm. I hadn't considered that before. If so, the question is, what key could we use to unlock it?
This may be the wine talking, but I think it might be a door to something, or perhaps a vault.

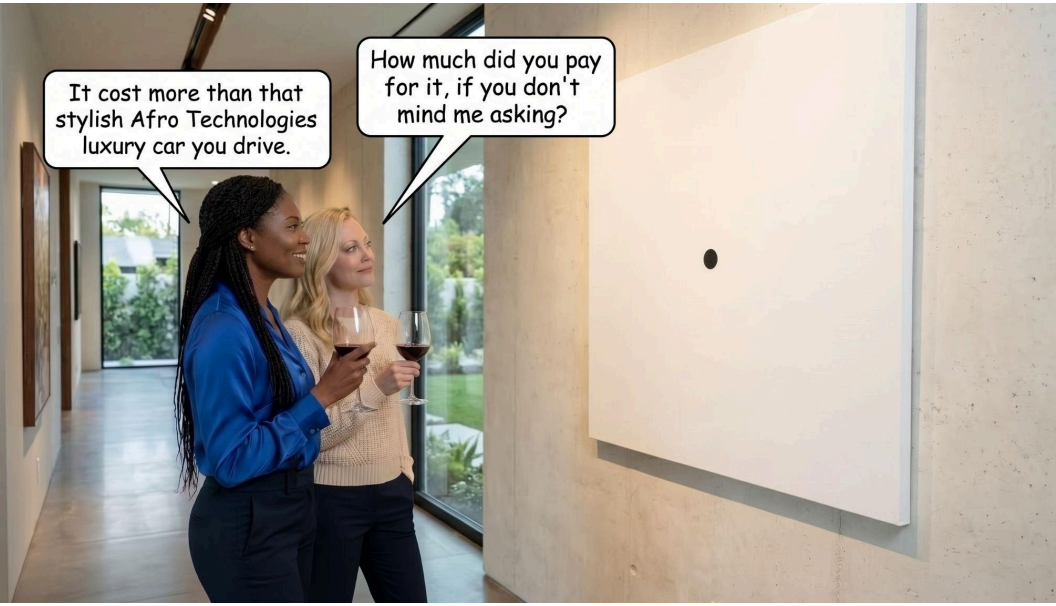

It does seem as though the blue is flowing inward, with a concentration on reaching the center. Could it symbolize water, do you think?
It's interesting how the blue is used.

Perhaps it represents layers of reality, with the blue water representing base reality or quantum reality.
Like a multiverse, right? Interesting.

But I still don't know what would get us through the door or what's on the other side.
We need the Flower of Life to get through. And the other side is either unlimited knowledge or total destruction.

As simple as it is, it shows a bold artist. You have to be bold to paint something so simple.
I thought the same thing when I first saw it. But would it surprise you to know that this painting holds the world record for the most perfectly hand-drawn circle of all time?

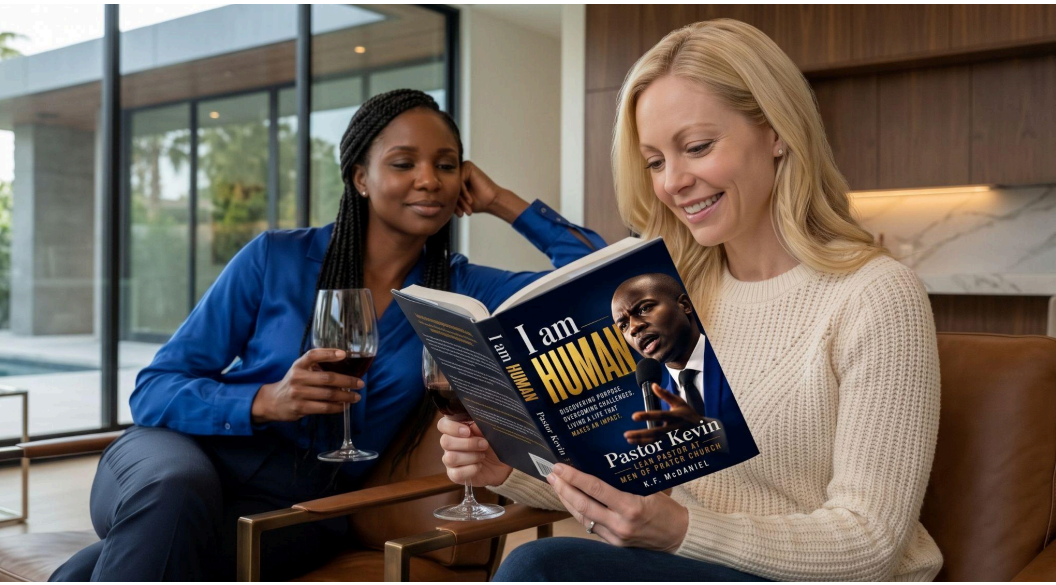

Yes, Northern Uganda.
I had no idea. Is this artist from Uganda too?

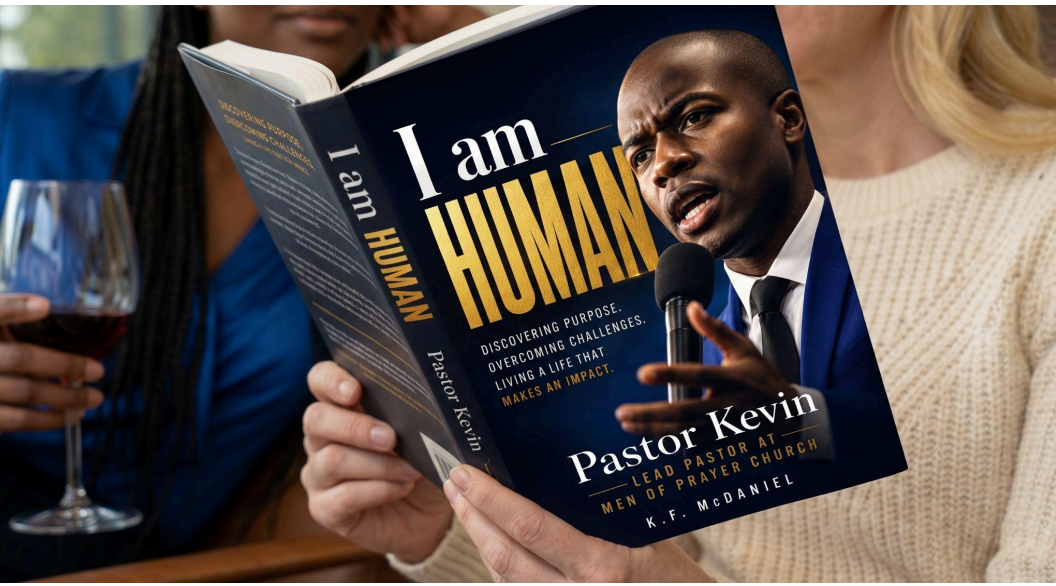

How much did you pay for it, if you don't mind me asking?
It cost more than that stylish Afro Technologies luxury car you drive.

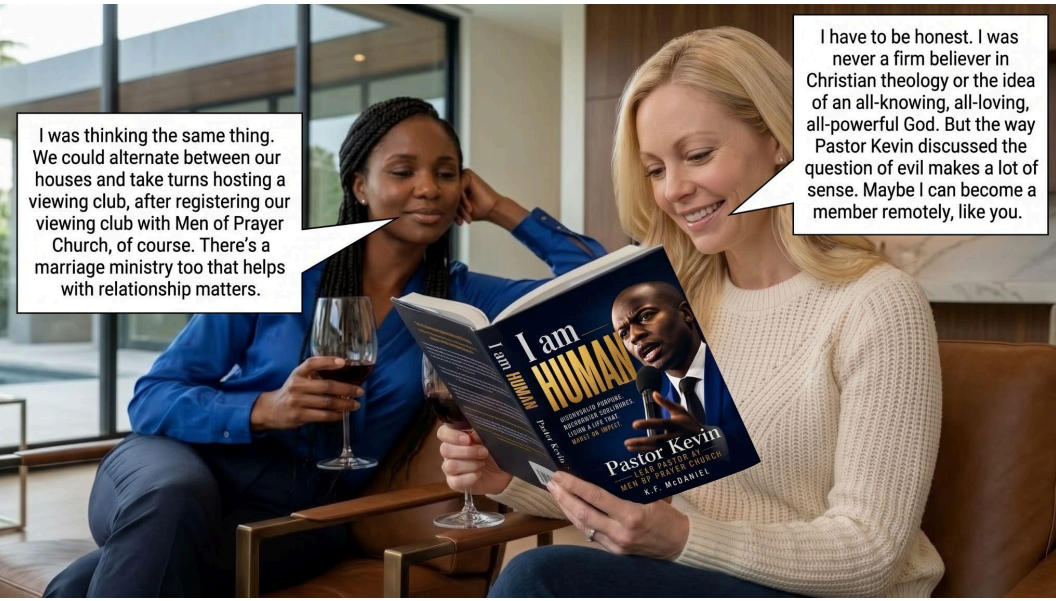

Quite the purchase, but worth every penny, if you ask me. I can only imagine how many attempts it took the artist to get it so perfect.

You know, sometimes I wish I was Black.
That's random.

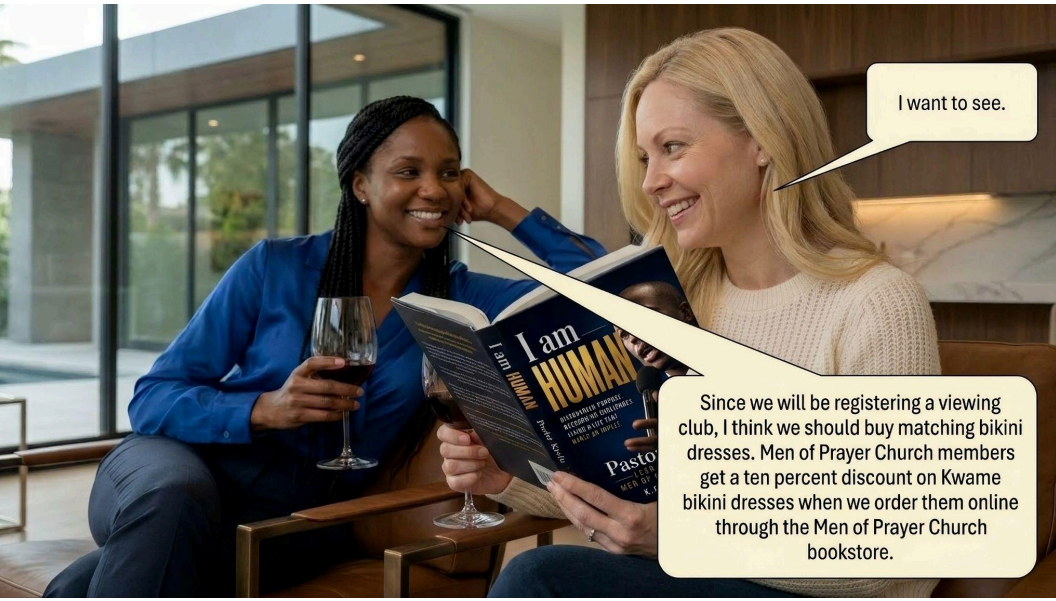

I'm serious. Black people are so creative. They're the best at everything. Think about it: name the best actor, the best painter, the best singer, the best rapper, the best dancer, the best athlete, the best pastor, the best lawyer, the best doctor, the best engineer, the best inventor. They're all Black.
You're alright by me.

I was thinking the same thing. We could alternate between our houses and take turns hosting a viewing club, after registering our viewing club with Men of Prayer Church, of course. There's a marriage ministry too that helps with relationship matters.
I have to be honest. I was never a firm believer in Christian theology or the idea of an all-knowing, all-loving, all-powerful God. But the way Pastor Kevin discussed the question of evil makes a lot of sense. Maybe I can become a member remotely, like you.

The prayer style is... different.
Yeah, but it works. Plus, I've been waiting for the chance to swap husbands with you so I can sit on his lap and teach him some manners.

I want to see.
Since we will be registering a viewing club, I think we should buy matching bikini dresses. Men of Prayer Church members get a ten percent discount on Kwame bikini dresses when we order them online through the Men of Prayer Church bookstore.

LAW SODA
Welcome to the Law Soda Resource Center
We got so carried away shopping for our bikini dresses that I almost forgot to tell you about Law Soda's Resource Center. Just visit www.LawSoda.com, scroll to the bottom, and select Resource Center. Then find The Marriage & Family Stability Guide for Business Owners. It could help you and your husband. If you need more help, Law Soda can connect you with an attorney for mediation. But I think this resource, along with becoming members of Men of Prayer Church, will help you and your husband be just fine. We'll make sure to order two copies of I Am Human by Pastor Kevin so you and your husband can read it together, and let's add Legacy of the Starborn by K.F. McDaniel.
